Cognitive	Hearing
Will things cause sensory overload or distress? Can things be easily understood? Can things be slowed, changed and customised?	Are there text or visual alternatives for audio? Can things be easily understood? Do things make good use of icons and images?
Motor	Vision
Can things be fully navigated and controlled via mouse, touch, keyboard or voice? Are things simple to control and interact with? Is focus visible and does the order make sense?	Are there audible or tactile alternatives, such as text a screen reader will speak, or haptic vibration? Can things be easily understood, and navigated with keyboard or gestures? Is there good colour contrast, and zoom support?
